

ICT & Human Rights

IADIS 2011 Round Table, Rome

Monday, July 25th

11:30 a.m. until 1:00 p.m.

Is digital literacy and access to ICT a basic human right?

This panel is dedicated to discussing how Information and Communication Technologies can be used to advance human rights around the world. Individuals can impact society, react, and reach out with the aid of technology. ICT is a powerful tool for encouraging, teaching, and protecting human rights.
